Overview of the Passage to ASEAN (P2A) Association

Passage to ASEAN or P2A began in 2012 to unite universities in ASEAN with one single mission: to bring students from different countries together to make friends and to gain knowledge and understanding of their region.

Passage to ASEAN (P2A) provides a program focusing on ASEAN preparation for all forms of Higher Education. P2A's Member Institutions include a large Network of approximately 80 ASEAN universities, colleges and institutes that share a common belief in preparing our next Generation for the ASEAN One Community. P2A's main focus is to promote Knowledge, Understanding and Experience amongst people, and countries. P2A believes that if we can build mutual understanding and acceptance of the differences between our peoples and nationalities, all nations and people will benefit.

1. P2A Provides a Unique and Short Term Framework for Student Mobility

P2A provides the most practical and affordable mobility model for students to travel in the region. The network encourages students to travel by bus, plane and boat, and overall participate in local activities to get a strong understanding of what it means to be a local person.

2. P2A Provides Online Supplemental Programs to Students and Teachers

P2A has focused on establishing several online and virtual platforms, to build a community of students who can interact online, and who can build knowledge in a fun way. Programs include Second Life, Social Media, Open Source Content & Assessments and a Tailor-made Application called the P2A Game (for Smartphones, Tablets and PC).

3. P2A Provides Certification to Students

The students who complete all programs of P2A will be eligible for the P2A ASEAN Certificate, which is co-signed by the Thai-ASEAN Association, and can be utilized, in their future careers.
